

Insurance done right

At Good Cover we believe in Community. So, what does that mean? Well, we see ourselves as part of many communities and we seek to actively give back to them all.

- Our local community here in the Northern Rivers – the wonderful, rich, vibrant community of people, businesses, passions, groups and institutions that make up the Northern Rivers.
- Our community of risk and insurance professionals, both here in Australia and worldwide
- Our community of likeminded businesses within the B corp movement worldwide who seek to balance purpose and profit, so as to be a force for good.
- Our community of people, of businesses, of not for profits and other institutions that are committed to education and action on the threats to our shared natural environment.

So how does Good Cover give back?

If you are a not for profit, you are within one of our community groups and our values are aligned then we will donate back to your organisation any income that we might generate for placing your insurance. In addition we won't charge you for any advice or service we provide.

In short, we will provide our services to you on a pro bono basis. The actual premium cost generated by the insurer will still have to be met by you, but our service is free and any income that might be generated by way of commission we will donate straight back to your organisation.

We believe the most tangible contribution we can make is our effort, our knowledge, our expertise, and the benefit of our relationships within the insurance industry and to do this at no cost.

To make an application please reach out to - matt@goodcover.com.au

In addition to the above we also:

- We give our team members four days a year, fully paid to participate in, help out, or work on a cause they believe in that fits under the Good for the Community, Good for the Planet ideals.
- We have committed to the 1% for the Planet program where each year we donate 1% of our revenue to not for profit organisations that are committed to making a difference
- We are active members of our local business community groups including
 - Bangalow Chamber of Commerce
 - Soughdough
 - Norther Rivers Food
 - Byron Bay Chamber of Commerce
 - Byron and beyond Networking